Overtime

The workweek at the University of Sharjah starts at 7:30 AM Sunday and ends at 5:00 PM the following Saturday. Overtime work is defined as work over 40 hours during this seven-day period. University policy requires that overtime work be approved in advance by the dean or director, except in emergencies where prior approval is not possible.

Supervisors are responsible to determine and to assign work schedules. Work outside of approved schedules should not be allowed, unless approval is obtained or an emergency exists. Any time worked must be compensated if it is known by the supervisor and is suffered or permitted to happen.

Where it appears that an employee may exceed in a workweek the 40 hours allowed, time off may be provided in the same workweek in order to keep the total hours worked to 40 or less.
It is not allowed that overtime earned in one pay period to be carried over and compensated in a later pay period. Time worked must be compensated on a current up-to-date basis.
This plan allows that when overtime is worked in one week of a pay period, it may be compensated by time off in another week at a time and one half rate, if both weeks are in the same pay period.
For example, an employee who works 44 hours in a week, could be required to work only 34 hours in the other week and receive regular pay for the pay period, if both weeks are in the same pay period. This plan cannot be extended beyond the pay period.
The overtime of the employees, other than members of the teaching staff, shall be calculated and paid as follows:
- The Employee shall be indemnified in consideration of such overtime, at such rate equal to the wage of an hour of his/her amended salary. The number of the additional working hours during the ordinary working days shall be calculated at the rate of two working hours per day maximum. During the weekend, the actual working hours shall be calculated at the rate of 4 working hours’ maximum.
- If the employee works during an official holiday, the Employee shall be compensated for the overtime at the rate of double the adjusted salary for the actual working hours, at the rate of 4 hours per day maximum. If the actual working hours of the Employee are less than two hours, they shall be considered as two actual working hours.
- In coordination with the heads of organizational units, the additional working hours may be used as paid leave. This is to be added to employee annual leaves
- The wage of the additional Work may not exceed the total salary for two months per one Year.
