ArabWIC's mission is to support, inspire, retain, encourage collaboration, increase visibility and status of women in computing, enabling them to achieve their career aspirations. All are welcome with an interest in the Arab region, including the Middle East and North Africa and beyond.

ArabWIC has conducted an international in-person conference every two years. In 2021 we will deliver a three-part conference on June 5 (Tech Day), June 12 (Career Day) and August 25 (Research Day).

The ArabWIC Research Day is an international forum for presenting and discussing advances in research and practice in all areas of computer Science and their applications.

Topics of interest include, but not limited to:

- Information Systems and Enterprise Architecture
- Natural Language Processing (NLP) and Information Retrieval
- Applications of Gamification, Gamin and Simulations in Education & Training.
- Knowledge Management and Knowledge Discovery
- Data Science, Business Intelligence and Data Analytics
- Artificial Intelligence and Cognitive Computing
- Big Data and Data Management
- Cloud, Distributed and Agile Computing
- Internet of Things and Wearable Technologies
- Mobile Computing and Social Computing
- Blockchain Technologies
- Security and Privacy
- Image Processing, Computer Vision and Multimedia
- Human Computer Interactions and Accessibility
- Computer Networks and Communications
- Operating Systems and Computer Architecture
- Applications in self-driving cars, robotics, e-Health, e-commerce, smart cities, etc.

Special interest is given to research applied to Covid-19.

The Research Day program will include keynote speakers and regular papers. Awards will be presented for best student paper and best faculty research.

Papers should not exceed 6 pages, including tables, figures and references, following the ACM template.

Submitted papers must present original and not currently under review for any other conference or journal.

All submissions will be peer-reviewed and acceptance is based on originality, quality and relevance. Only accepted papers that are presented will be published in the ACM's International Conference Proceedings Series (ISBN: 978-1-4503-8418-6).

Submission is open to all Women and Men of all nationalities.

Extended deadline: 06/06/2021
