

TBL rooms (M23-199E and M23-109)

The TBL rooms are meant to foster active learning and are designed for more collaboration, problem-solving and inquiry-based learning. The rooms' layout encourages student-centered approaches to teaching where student/faculty and student/student interactions are made possible by the round tables, technology, and whiteboards, which encircle the rooms.

The room contains student round table with the additional capability of hooking up laptops and smart technology. All TBL rooms have an instruction station which allows the instructor to move around the classroom.
